Two move dead Celestials were found to-day, one in the ruins of Chinatown and the other beneath a railroad bridge about a mile east of the place. The latter had been wounded and had managed to walk that far before giving up. Miners who took an active part in the attack upon Chinatown say that less than one-third of the dead Chinese in the ruins of the houses have been found thus far. They dealare that no less than twonty-live were the dead Uninese in the ruins of the houses have been found thus far. They declare that no less than twenty-live were shot down inside the burned buildings. These buildings had dirt roofs, which covered up the dead Chinamen when the dwellings succumbed to the fames, and, as no actual search has been made in the rains, it is quite probable that the miners' statements are true.

Chinamen are still arriving at stations East and West almost dead from fright and weak from fatigue and lask of food. All are shipped to Evanston by the company. They reiterate the statement that many have died in the hills from wounds received in the attack upon them.

It is reported that the white miners at Almy, in the western end of the territory, have notified the Chinese laborers in the mines that they must leave within three days, and it is said that the Union Pacific Company has guaranteed their removal within the times needied.

-The Wool Market.

Boston, Sept. 5.-The Advertiser in its veekly review of the wool market says: Contrary to the expectations of some, the market shows increased sales of nearly 1,000,000 pounds over last week. There certainly appeared good ground for these expectations, for the average of the sales of the previous seven weeks has been over 4,000,000 pounds, and more than the immediate wants of manufacturers should have been met by them.

The feature of the market is practically

The feature of the market is practically the continued sharp demand for low wools, which are from 3 to 4 cents per pound higher than the lowest point. Extra super pulled wools have been advanced 2c per lo this week. It will be recalled that, early in the season, the attention of manufacturers was directed, in this report, the low prices these wools were selling at, being out of all proportion to fleece. Pullers have now either withdrawn their wools, or have advanced their prices at least 3c per lb.

at 36c, and some No. 1 combing has also brought that price. It is noticeable that there is a greater difference than is usual between washed and unwayhed combing.

The principle change to note is an in reased activity among the independent ovens, notably the works of W. J. Rainey and Company, Moyer and Dawson. They have secured orders for 20 cars per day additional and this has had the effect of additional and this has had the effect of putting them on full time again. The outlook continues promising. Prices remain at $1.20 for foundry coke; $1.40 for furnace coke, and $1.75 for crunade coke. Shipments are now over 3,000 cars per week, as they were under it two weeks ago. To be exact, the weekly output is now 3,000 cars, and is on the rise. The brightening prospects of the iron trade give promise of a continued increase in the demand, and some of the more sanguing coke operators subjuste an order guine coke operators anticipate an order in the near future to fire up more ovens. Labor continues plenty and there is no

Trade and Finance Abroad. London, Sept. 6 .- Money was in slightly etter demand during the past week, but the improvement was not appreciable in the improvement was not appreciate in the rate of discount on loans. The de-cline on exchange on New York induced a belief that shipments of gold would be required against the grain and bonds freely bought here. The reduction of the bank reserve to £15,000,000 was due to the bank reserve to £15,000,000 was due to the large amount of treasury bills and the withdrawal of gold for Egypt. There are rumors that Russia is about to contract a new loan. The iron trade is more active, but the improvement hardly justifies the sanguine expectations of the public.

ance will defray the running expenses, the games will go on, and we will have a good team here next year, but if there is not enough interest in a line game of ball to draw a paying crowd, the enterprise will necessarily fail. We can have a first rate team here practically for nothing, and it remains with the patrons of the game to decide if it shall continue.

"I'll bet, —— [here the millionaire called on the Supreme witness] he won't print what I told him," remarked Mr. Vanderbilt to Mr. Turnbull, who was present at the interview.

"Oh, yes he will," replied Mr. Turnbull, "I know him."

Upon being further questioned, the railroad king refused to state whether he intended to dispose of the Pittsburgh, Mc-Keesport & Youghiegheny road or not, but said that, as he knew nothing comparatively about the alleged sale of the Lake Erie to the Pennsylvania, he could not say definitely what action would be taken until he heard from his managers, who are now on the field.

Married on a Bailway Train.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 5.—A novel wedding took place to day on a train on the Sewickley branch of the Pennsylvania railroad. The contracting parties were Conductor Ambrose and Miss Nancy A. Maione. The attention of the passengers having been saked for, the Rev. C. R. Diffenbacher arose and before him stood the bride and groom. The train hands and passengers looked with astonishment when the marriege ceremony was begun. The benediction was hardly pronounced when the engine whistled its congratulations to the happy couple and Conductor Ambrose called out "Tickets, please."
